Major Display, Inc. Forges Alliance with Rabun Business Park

Rabun County, GA, July 21, 2015—Major Display, Inc. is excited to announce the relocation of its headquarters to the Rabun Business Park in Rabun County, Georgia. Major Display is an international LED scoreboard manufacturer and sports marketing agency with a focus on new technology development.

For schools districts, parks and recreation departments, and youth athletic associations, Major Display's LED scoreboards provide sports league with cutting edge technology and unmatched quality. In addition to technological innovation, Major Display is the nation's only scoreboard manufacturer with a philanthropic impulse. The company donates a portion of all annual proceeds to educational scholarships for nominated student athletes. The company’s easy-to-use mobile control system and live scoring broadcast technology promises to create a platform for athletic professionals to encourage and support the future of the next generation.

Tammy and Glen Whittaker, the founder’s of Major Display, will be bringing the company to the Rabun Business Park by September 1, 2015. Taking into account current sales and projected growth, they expect to create 20 to 30 new jobs in a 12 to 24 month time period. This is an exciting time for both manufacturing production and the technology sector, as each respective industry is expected to grow steadily over the next several years. Major Display is positioned well in the marketplace in that the company focuses primarily on technological innovations that revolutionize scoreboard production.

Major Display looks forward to being a part of the Rabun County community. For more information on Major Display’s products, please visit our website at www.majordisplay.com. For information about careers, please contact us at careers@majordisplay.com.
